What is Resiliency

The creation and execution of a proactive plan to help mitigate loss of cash flow during a business interruption, such as the Coronavirus, enabling the business to continue.

Examples

A retail store adjusts its marketing to increase online sales due to social distancing

Examples of Interruption

- Key Employees are unable to work
- Decreased foot traffic

- Supply Chain Interruption
- Event Closures

Identify Critical Functions

What keeps business going?

- Selling products
- Manufacturing products
- Accepting payments
- Managing Cashflow

Supporting Resources

Key Employees

Receptionists, accountants, special licenses (CDL)

Critical Equipment

• Laths, stoves, computers

Utilities

• Electricity, gas, water, sewer,

Example:

A company's Point of Sales (PoS) system needs reset, however the trained employee is sick and unable to work.

Alternative Resources

Sick Employees

- Cross train employees
- Have anyone available telecommute
- Partner with other businesses
- Hire online support

Continuation of example:

Several workers are cross trained to reset the PoS system before the primary employee was sick. Enabling the business to continue sales and keep the lights on.

Identify Supplier Risk

What affects your business affects your suppliers

Get Creative!
